

Introduction

This document summarizes the important changes to the WFRC-MAG travel modeling process now available for testing. The document is not intended to be comprehensive and it is targeted towards an audience familiar with travel modeling. If you have questions, please contact Chad Worthen (cworthen@wfrc.org).

See earlier “What’s new?” documents to understand other model elements that were worked on in earlier stages.